Foiling Attempt of Anarchists to Reach The Czar

(Special from United Press.)

Rome, Sept. 9.—In an effort to frustrate any anarchist attempt to reach the Czar and incidentally King Victor, when the former pays his visit to Italy, the Italian press announced today another change as to the place where the two monarchs are to meet. These changes are given out every few days to keep the anarchists "up in the air." They are sent from the Quirinal to the "Tribuna," which faithfully publishes it. It is too late to deny it and publish something else within a few days. The other papers must follow suit or get in trouble with the government.

Spezia, Bari, Taranto and Gaeta have already been mentioned as the meeting place. No reference has been made to Naples, which really seems the likeliest place for the two rulers to greet each other. It is the only place in Italy where it would be possible for the Czar to land from his yacht secretly within the military port, from which the public could be excluded, and reach the royal palace, opening secretly upon the port and arsenal, without traversing a single street.

Mauretania Racing to Smash Records

(Special from United Press.)

New York, Sept. 9.—The great Lusitania of the Cunard line, the first vessel to get into the class of the "four-day steamers," may have her wonderful record torn from her this afternoon by the Mauretania, which is expected to dock at 5:30 and lower the Lusitania's record by two hours.

When the Lusitania landed on Thursday last, after making the run from Daunt's Rock to Ambrose Channel in 4 days, 11 hours and 44 minutes, she had smashed previous transatlantic records by three hours and 13 minutes and had established her supremacy of the seas.

The princess, a charming little woman, is a great favorite with Mrs. Taft. She is one of the most scholarly women in Japan. She will visit Mrs. Taft again during her stay in America.

TO BREAK WILL OF COL. ADDIS

RELATIVES FIND NOTHING FOR THEM ON OPENING SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES.

New Haven, Sept. 9.—Relatives of Colonel Thomas Emmett Addis, who died recently after a life spent in travel and adventure, have announced that they will contest his will, which leaves his entire estate of $300,000 to local charitable institutions, Grace Hospital and the New Haven Hospital each receiving $100,000. Ground for the contest has not been stated, but the action was decided upon after safe deposit boxes rented by Colonel Addis in Jersey City had been opened and it was found that none of the securities contained therein had been set aside for the relatives. Among these are Lieutenant Emmett Addis, of the Tenth Cavalry, and his sister, Colonel Addis' estate was distinctly picturesque. Born in 1840, his early life was spent on the sea, and at nineteen he was captain of a sailing vessel, but he gave up this occupation to become a mechanic and was soon an adept in solving difficult mechanical problems. He became associated with the Winchester Repeating Arms Company in this capacity and afterward traveled as its special representative, making many trips around the world.

Only a few of the campaign of some country fair, which is kept entirely free from objectionable features. Lovers of fine cattle and thoroughbred horses will be greatly interested, because the entries in these classes are more numerous and better than ever before. The judging of the ring classes of cattle will take place at 10:30 p. m. on the opening day. The parade will take place on the same track at 4 in the afternoon. Prize winning cattle will be on exhibition for three days.

On Wednesday and Thursday there will be exhibitions and judgments of mares, colts, stallions, draught horses, ponies, carriages, decorated vehicles, and dogs.

Should any day be stormy the fair will be continued one consecutive day. Coincident with the fair will take place the ninth annual horse show, which is under the superintendence of Ernest Bradley.

Some unique contests have been arranged for this part of the show. There will be the free for all pig race, in which the horses must be taken from the wagons, unharnessed, harnessed again to wagon and driven around the track. Then there will be the running pony race, which is for little fellows under 13 hands. The distance is half a mile. Much of the interest in the exhibition of horses suitable for harness and saddle purposes. The horses in this class will first be shown attached to a light cart and then be judged under the saddle.

There is to be a keen competition for the prize silver cup donated by David N. Saturday, for the best pig race horse, 15-17 hands or over, having knee and hook action, conformation and speed. In this contest equipment will count for 25 per cent.

As usual the ladies' industrial class, of which Mrs. Simon C. Bradley is superintendent, will be very complete and interesting. It will be divided into 15 sections reaching from bead work to miscellaneous fancy work and tapestry. It will be a complete object lesson to women handy with the needle who desire homes filled with things beautiful.

The fine arts department is also to be very complete, and the children's exhibits are to be kept in pace with the rest.

It is required that all exhibits be in position by 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, and some are required to be in place much earlier.

Superintendents of the respective departments will be found in their places on Saturday morning and Tuesday until 10 o'clock, where they will receive exhibits and arrange for the display of the same.

Great pains have been taken to have the judging done by those skilled in the work and with the utmost impartiality. Nobody will be permitted to be a judge in a department where he is also a competitor.

The officers of the association are: Nellis H. Sherwood, Southport, president; Simon C. Bradley and Miss Georgia A. Banks, vice presidents; A. C. Acker, Bridgeport, secretary; S. C. Wakeman, Westport, treasurer; S. C. Bradley, W. O. Burr, J. N. Hutchinson, W. H. Wilson, W. Olds, Miss Georgia A. Banks, N. H. Sherwood, J. M. Wilson, Mrs. D. B. Adams, C. P. Bradley, Ella Wakeman, and C. Gray directors.

The superintendents of exhibits of various classes, of buildings, ground and field entertainment are: Mrs. William Hull, Greenfield Hill. Fine Arts, Miss Laura Dowd, Greenfield Hill. Ladies' Industrial, Mrs. S. C. Bradley, Fairfield. Bread, Cake and Pies, Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Fairfield.

Michael Jarwick of the South End found out to his sorrow yesterday that it does not pay to appeal a case from the City Court to the Common Pleas Court as yesterday the sentence he was given in the lower court was somewhat increased. Jarwick obstructed Officer Hatch of the Bridgeport force, in the performance of his duty, Aug. 29. It did not take the jury long to decide in the matter for after a few minutes the verdict was rendered of guilty. The court imposed a fine of $25 and costs on Jarwick, and sent him to jail for 60 days. In the City Court the accused was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to jail for 15 days.

GREENFIELD AGRICULTURAL FAIR OPENS TUESDAY FOR NINTH TIME

Association Intends it to Be Biggest of Successful Series of Annual Exhibitions—Horse Show to Be a Feature—Will Run Three Days, With Provision for Extension in Case of Storm

The ninth annual exhibition of the Greenfield Agricultural Fair will open at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, Sept. 14, on the beautiful grounds of the Greenfield Country Club, at Greenfield Hill, and will continue throughout Wednesday and Thursday following. In the language of the circus, "the fair will be bigger, better and grander than ever," a result which will be in part due to the faithful service of the officers of the association, and in part to the co-operation of many exhibitors and the general public.

President Nellis H. Sherwood of Southport, with Vice Presidents Simon C. Bradley and Miss Georgia A. Banks have labored diligently to make this year's exhibition ideal from every standpoint and they have been heartily supported by the superintendents of the various classes of exhibits.

The association is fortunate to begin with in the location of its fair grounds. Than Greenfield Hill there is no more beautiful spot in Connecticut. The view from the club house piazza is a pleasant prospect and not surpassed in New England.

The exhibit is a clean and wholesome country fair, which is kept entirely free from objectionable features. Lovers of fine cattle and thoroughbred horses will be greatly interested, because the entries in these classes are more numerous and better than ever before. The judging of the ring classes of cattle will take place at 10:30 p. m. on the opening day. The parade will take place on the same track at 4 in the afternoon.
